Slaton

As one of Florida's oldest and largest privately held independent insurance agencies, Slaton has much to boast about. Founded in 1923, we've weathered the Depression, military conflicts, intense corporate competition – and more than our share of hurricanes. During this time the business climate in Florida has changed dramatically and many agencies have come and gone. Others are pleased to note that they are still "hanging in there."

Slaton is different. Innovative. Forward-thinking. Edgy. In less than two decades, our meteoric rise was not just luck – it was strategically plotted, purposefully implemented.

The sky's the limit. Slaton offers opportunity. As an employee, you'll have opportunities to grow personally as you maximize your innate abilities, and opportunities to grow professionally as you ignite your passion for your chosen vocation. And you'll have unparalleled opportunities to expand your knowledge base. Slaton has a generous education reimbursement program, and encourages all employees to earn professional designations.

Why join Slaton?

We're established – and we're progressive. We offer the security of a company that's been around over 80 years, has a roster of loyal clients, and provides a complete range of insurance and risk management services. Much like the mega-watt national firms – with some critical differences: there are no corporate ladders to climb, no political dances to perform, and no glass ceilings to break. We encourage creative, independent thinking.

At Slaton, you'll be immersed into a supportive environment. As a new employee, you'll participate in programs that focus on our proprietary products and services, and you'll learn the inner workings of our business structure. You'll also be part of a four person account management team consisting of a technical assistant, assistant account manager, account manager, and account executive. This team approach will help you quickly acclimate into our corporate culture, and provide you with the assistance or oversight you'll need to get your work done efficiently and effectively.

We want you to be excellent at what you do! Our training programs and resources rival the major national brokers. You'll benefit from both internal and external sources as you seek out and learn from the best in the business. We value your knowledge, and we think you'll appreciate our open-mindedness.

The Slaton Advantage: Proprietary Products and Services

As an independent agency, we work with virtually every major insurance company and are licensed to do business in more than 40 states. This extensive network of relationships has led to our in-depth knowledge of the marketplace, and unique expertise in developing individualized, cost-effective solutions for accounts of all sizes and needs. We offer unrivaled products that are highly valued by our clients, and create significant competitive advantages for our firm. IntelliComp® is our proprietary workers' compensation system that can save businesses thousands of dollars in overcharges, and we provide innovative hi-tech services that simplify the administration of benefits and human resource functions. Our relationship with clients is measured by our ability to be a strategic partner in the growth of their business.
